Business Activity Increasing

There is no doubt but that this section will soon have a business revival and that the wheels of commerce will once again be moving at their old time speed—not so fast as they did during the war period, neither can we expect that, but there will be a return of prosperous times such as we have not known for more than a year.

The Bath county situation will be improved wonderfully when our tobacco commences to move which will be in March. The money market will become easier, merchants will be in better condition and people will commence to buy things that are needed. Then times will be better for all. As we have said before and now repeat we believe that the return of prosperity will be noticeable in Kentucky before the rest of the country strikes its stride.

Total number of deaths in Bath County last year were 25,179 compared with 28,623 in 1920, according to J. F. Blackerly, director of vital statistics.

OUTLOOK $1.50 PER YEAR.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY

BATH COUNTY COURT February term, 1922.

Hon. H. R. Prosser Judge:

We, the grand jury would respectfully report that we have now been in session six days and that we have returned into open Court 83 indictments covering various crimes and misdemeanors which have been committed within our jurisdiction.

That we have faithfully tried to follow the instructions of the Court and that we have made a sweeping investigation of all violations that have been committed so far as we were able to investigate. We find that the morals of the County are improving which should receive the commendation of all good citizens.

We beg to note and we heartily commend the action of the Chamber of Commerce of the town of Owensville for their action in aiding and assisting the officers of the county in the extermination of crime. We believe that the concerted effort of the good citizens of the county will very much tend to the suppression of lawless violations that are now and have been committed in the county in the past.

We heartily thank the Court for their assistance to us in the discharge of our duty since we are in session.

We have examined the police offices and building of the county and we find that they are in fairly good condition, and that the officers are well kept. We have examined the reports of the County Jail and find that they are correct as far as we are able to ascertain.

We beg to report that we have examined the condition of the parks of the county and that we find that in many places the roads are in a dangerous condition and that at many places there are dangerous rocks on the sides of the roads. We have never yet been spaced, but have been on there for a long period of time and that the roads have been scattered here and there all over the county.

Busy Public Official Says Theodor Black-Draught Helps Him Keep Physically Fit.

SHE LOOKS SO WELL AND HAPPY

See the rich, red blood, the sign of health, showing in her lovely cheeks.

Some women have naturally beautiful complexions that tell you there is plenty of richness in their blood. Their figures become well formed, supple, rounded, and graceful. These are the results of rich, red blood, and plenty of it. There is no need of being thin and scrawny from poor blood. Get a few bottles of Gude's Pepto-Manganol—take it with your meals for a few weeks. It will give you plenty of red blood. By building up the blood, you give the entire system a chance to restore itself naturally, and that brings natural bloom and beauty and all the effects and joys of good health. JES LAUNDRY WORK AND HOUSEWORK TOO

Surprised to Find Herself Feeling So Well

Taunton, Mass.—"Used to have pains in my back and legs so badly, with other troubles that women sometimes have, that my doctor ordered me to stay in bed a week in every month. It didn't do me much good, some day after talking with a friend who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for about the same troubles I had, I thought I would try it. I took it for a week and found it did me much good. I felt like a new woman. I can now do my laundry and housework, too. Last month I was so surprised at myself to be up and around and feeling so good while before I used to feel completely lifeless. I have told some of the girls who work with me and have such troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I tell them how it has helped me. You can use my testimonial for the good of others."—Mrs. BLANCHETTE GILVER, 69 Grant St., Taunton, Mass.

It's the same story—One friend telling another of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

D. HOWE'S FAVORITE STORY

Known Kansas Editor Takes Trip in Effort to Way He Squares Accounts.

Howe, Kansas has been a traveler. He has made a number of trips abroad and went around the world. It was on his first trip abroad that he encountered one of the sea bounds whose chief boast is concerned in the number of times they have crossed the Atlantic. Mr. Howe tells the incident as his favorite story.

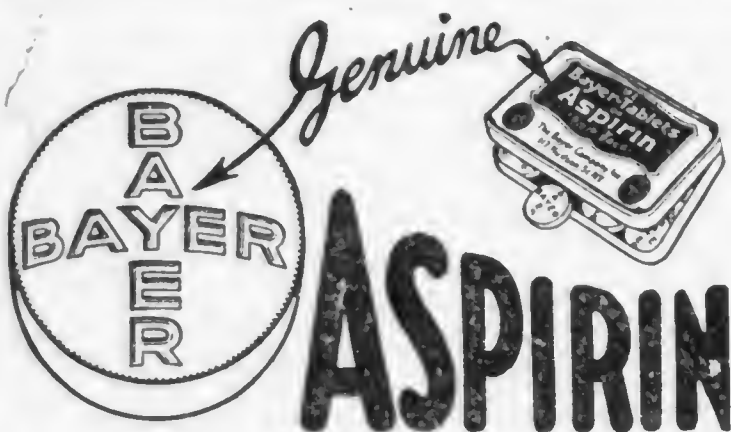

"In this your first trip" the sea bound asked Mr. Howe on the occasion of their first meeting. Mr. Howe admitted that it was. "Well," said the sea bound, "I've crossed the Atlantic 40 times." On the second day the sea bound again put the question to Mr. Howe and again vouchsafed the same observation. He repeated it at frequent intervals during the trip.

It was on the sixth day, after the sea bound had again spoken of the number of his crossings, that Mr. Howe said to him: "By the way, have you ever been to Omaha?" The sea bound said he never had. "Well," retorted Mr. Howe, "I go there every week."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Movies and Roads.

Since the movies came to the mountains roads have changed. Last summer I looked about the dusty hills where the pictures are shown. The people from my valley were there, and it was evident that they were accustomed to the road. Whether the movies are wholly responsible for this, I cannot say, but I do know that no mountain man is going to labor on a roadbuilding when the road tends only to markets and the dentist.—Celia Harris in the Outlook.

SHOULD BE FINISH TO THIS Probably Some Readers Would Like to Know Just What the Lieutenant Colonel Said.

Private Washington Lee Johnson had just come up with the replacements, and not ever having had a luck at all, went on sentry duty the first night in the new camp. In the wee, wee hours along grew the lieutenant colonel who had a reputation for being one hard-boiled guy.

"Halt! Who goes dar?" bellowed Private Johnson.

"Officer of the post."

There was a long and painful silence while the sentry racked his brain for the proper thing to say. Then the officer snarled:

"Well, why don't you say something? Are you going to leave me standing here like this all night?"

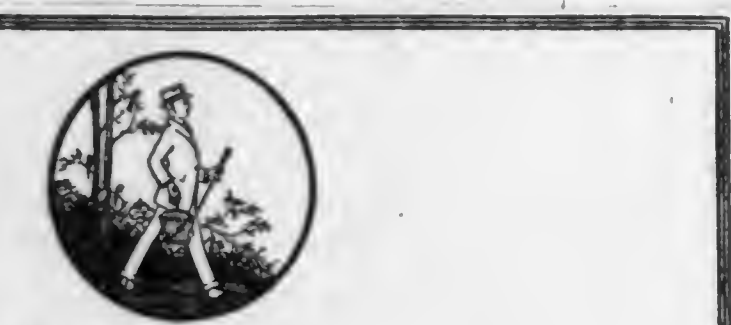

"Yes," answered Private Johnson in relief as a flash of inspiration came. "No, indeedly, sir. At ease!"—American Legion Weekly.

Save the bird in hand—The others may be hard to catch

With enough money, enough time and enough luck, a man may get back the health he has lost—or part of it.

It takes patience, too. And then there may be no success, or only a little.

It's better to save what you have than hunt for what you've lost—as the most successful health-restorers will tell you.

Much of the loss of health is due to faulty, careless diet. Wrong meals at all times and right meals at wrong times load the long-suffering digestive organs with elements of destruction, or starve the tissues and glands of needed elements.

Grape-Nuts is a delicious cereal food which has the qualities of scientific nutrition. It supplies the full richness of those splendid food grains, wheat and malted barley, together with the vital mineral elements, so often lacking from foods. Served with cream or good milk, Grape-Nuts gives full nourishment without over-loading the stomach.

A splendid thought for breakfast or lunch, for those who would keep health—

ARMY AIRSHIP FALLS 1000 FEET; THIRTY-FOUR DIE

SURVIVORS ESCAPE BY LEAPING AS MAMMOTH CRAFT HITS THE GROUND

Victims Were Imprisoned in Hull, Where Chained Bodies Were Found—Broken Rudder Believed To Have Caused Disaster.

Norfolk, Va.—Thirty-four men were killed, eight were injured seriously and three were unhurt or injured slightly when the giant army airship Rome, with her crew and a number of civilians, totalling 45 aboard, plummeted from 1000 feet or more in the air to the ground at the Hampton Roads Army base. The accident presumably was caused by a broken rudder, and as the huge dirigible plunged to earth it capsize across a high-tension electric line, bursting into a furnace of blazing hydrogen gas.

Long after dark many hours after its fall, the ship still was a mass of flames from end to end of the 410-foot monster. The fire fell on the 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas which had distended the great bag for the flight and made all attempts at rescue futile.

Barely a dozen of those aboard were found alive, and one of those died on his way to a hospital. All of those who survived the fire-escape by leaping as the ship struck. The others perished in the hull beneath the fallen bag, burned to death. Heat of the fire fought back the rescuers for hours.

Within the wreckage lay the bodies, many of them charred beyond recognition. Thirty bodies had been brought to a hospital. All of those who survived the fire-escape by leaping as the ship struck. The others perished in the hull beneath the fallen bag, burned to death. Heat of the fire fought back the rescuers for hours.

It was the largest dirigible ever built in the world. The Roma was an Italian-built craft, purchased by the United States Government from Italy early in 1921 for $200,000. Bank Shortage. Corydon, Ind.—Federal bank examiners closed the Corydon National Bank. They have refused to make a statement but a committee, which made a cursory examination, reported that a shortage of probably $340,000 existed. The bank has a capital of $125,000, with a surplus of $75,000. The reported shortage, it is understood, is due partly to poor loans. It is rumored that oil leases have figured in the reported difficulties. W. C. Cook, president of the bank, Ben S. Applegate, vice-president, and George W. Applegate, cashier.

THREE SLAIN FOR $10. Waco, Texas.—L. C. Johnson, alias Cooper, and Young, negroes, arrested and charged with the murder of the son of W. H. Barker, Mrs. Barker and Homer Truck, a thirteen-year-old boy, are in jail at Waxahatchie, Tex. He was arrested after news was made public of the clearing up of the triple murder, which netted the perpetrators $10.00.

COINS FILL POCKETS. Boston.—Coins weighing 15 pounds were found in the pockets and lining of the clothing of a man, Harry, 32 years old, peddler, who attended to the hospital where he was treated after being struck by a taxicab. The money in nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars as well as a few foreign pieces, amounted to $184.

EXPERT WITHOUT WILL. Chicago.—John S. Miller, well expert, who died here, failed to make his will. It was disclosed when his son, John S. Miller, Jr., also an attorney, applied for papers to administer the estate. A year ago, Miller drew a fee of more than $100,000 for his part in helping to interpret the will of Marshall Field.

OCEAN TRIP IN 32 HOURS. New York.—Louis Gaubert, French aviator, before sailing for India, said he intended to make a round trip to the States in a Globair plane carrying 10 passengers within two months. Gaubert predicted he would make a non-stop flight across the Atlantic in less than 32 hours.

TWO MINUTES TOO LATE! Chicago.—A skydiver robber lived an office in the Insurance Exchange Building and held up and robbed A. J. Demerco of $5,000 in cash and jewelry. Within two minutes after the hold-up the entrances of the building were guarded, but the robber escaped.

FORD REWARDS WORKMAN. Napoleon, O.—Because he refused to sue the Detroit, Toledo and Western Railroad, or to suggest a settlement for injuries received last October, William Fliss has been rewarded by Henry Ford, owner of the motor. Fliss was crushed and bruised when in a crossing accident while employed by the road. Ford ordered him to be taken to a hospital, where he remained until fully recovered. He begins his new duties March 15, at a salary of $8 a day for an eight-hour day, with Sundays off.

LEGION WINS ONE CENT. Omaha, Neb.—A judgment of one cent was awarded to the American Legion of Nebraska by District Court against Francis H. Shoemaker, said to have worked as an organizer out of Wisconsin for the Nonpartisan League, and whom the Legion sued for following an address before a labor meeting here several months ago, in which Shoemaker was quoted as having said the legion was "subsidized by big interests" and was opposed to organized labor. Judgment was by default.

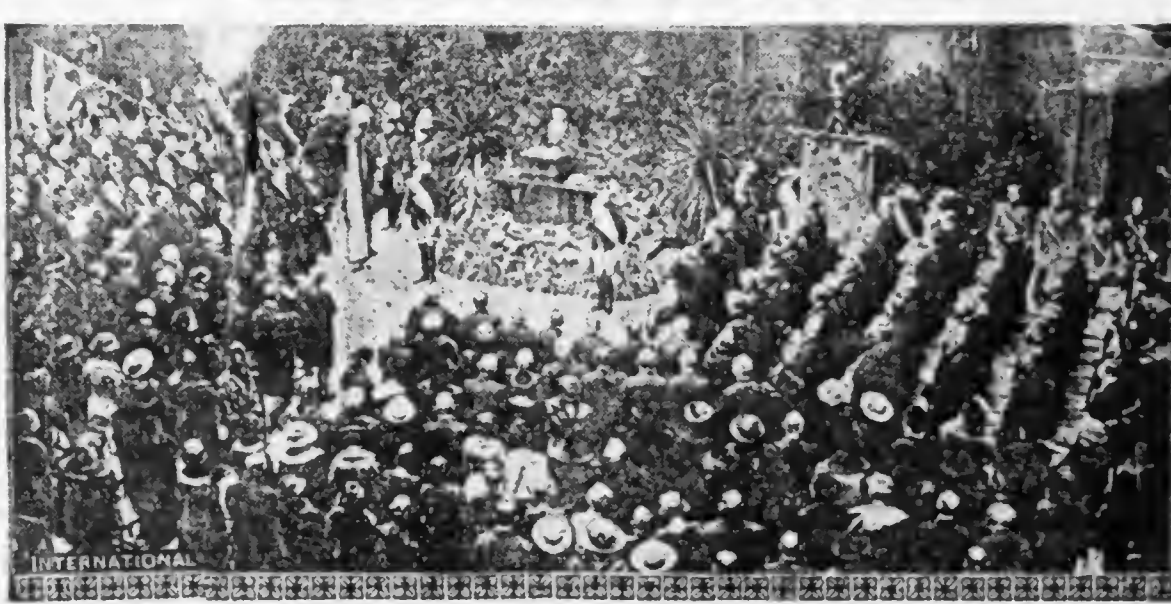

RATE CUTS URGED. Sharp reductions in the railroad freight rates on live stock were urged in the Interstate Commerce Commission's general rate hearings by producers of cattle and hogs and the National Live Stock Exchange. Chicago meat packers and their competitors seconded the argument of the producers.

TREATY FOES MOVE FOR BIG VICTORY

SENATOR LODGE TO CONFER WITH PRESIDENT HARDING REGARDING SITUATION

Irreconcilables Believed To Be Using Reservations As A Wedge To Defeat Ratification Altogether—Success of Treaties Seem To Be Assured.

Washington.—Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, will go to the White House to lay the situation before the President. Neither this nor any of the treaties of the Washington conference are believed to be in danger, but Senator Lodge admits he is viewing with trepidation the advances made by the irreconcilables.

When the measure first came up he tactfully refused to discuss it, but he has now taken a more definite position and has indicated that he is not opposed to it, even if he thought it to be superfluous.

But in the meantime the irreconcilables are believed to be using the reservations as a wedge to defeat ratification altogether, and, not for the simple purpose, as appears, of reserving American rights, have become encourage by their first victory and through the Brandeis reservation and a new one from Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, are seeking to drive the wedge further.

Any and all reservations will be opposed vigorously by Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, and Frank Kellogg, of Minnesota, Republicans, who have not followed in the path of dissent.

Senator Lodge, and both of these Senators said that they believed that regardless of how many reservations were reported out of committee that the Senate would not adopt any.

CHINAMAN FLEES. Los Angeles, Cal.—A Chinese housewife, who had been a domestic servant, fled from her home in a panic, leaving behind her a large sum of money.

BOND ISSUE AIDS CHURCHES. Paris.—A bond issue for the reconstruction of 3,000 churches in the devastated areas of France has been authorized. It will be the same type as other issues for reconstruction projects in devastated regions, and will amount to 200,000,000 francs, bearing interest at 6 per cent, issued in 500-franc denominations and payable in 30 years. The issue will be guaranteed by the Government, and is other similar issues. A regular limited liability company has been formed to carry out the plan.

BANDITS SLAY JEWELER. New York.—Shot by one of two build-up men, Benjamin S. Sams, a wealthy jeweler, died in the arms of a friend who heard the shot and reached the jewelry store barely in time to catch a glimpse of the fleeing murderers. A safe was found open, with packages of diamonds in view. It is not known whether or not the bandits obtained any valuables. Sams' shop is on Madison street, near New Bowery, on the East Side.

SILESIAN RIOTS RENEWED. Berlin.—A telegram received here from Breslau reported that a German police-sergeant was shot by a French soldier at Glatz, Upper Silesia, during the course of an encounter between three French soldiers and a number of civilians.

TO TRAIN 227,000 MEN. Washington.—More than 250,000 men are expected by War Department officials to be under canvas or in barracks this summer for intensive military training for the first time since Congress welded the regular army, the national guard and the organized reserves into a composite body constituting the army of the United States. Plans for the instruction of 227,000 men, representing the three components of the united land forces, were announced by the department.

ERRAND OF MERCY. Reno, Nev.—Marooned from the remainder of the world, with no means of reaching civilization, a father, mother and two children, living on a homestead 12 miles north of Reno, were saved from possible starvation by the air mail service. Three large sacks of food were dropped in the yard while the plane dived the house. The father, who was ill, was unable to reach the house, and neighborhood homesteaders had attempted to aid them, but could not reach the place even on horseback.

FORMER CLERK HELD. Detroit, Mich.—Charles Street, former clerk of the Detroit House of Correction, was arrested pending investigation of disappearance of $2,212, declared by expert accountants to have been collected in times at the institution while Street was clerk. The missing money was collected from 122 prisoners, and Street, who was a prisoner, was found in the institution. Street denied knowledge of the loss, stating, according to police, he had put it in a drawer to which a number of persons had access.

LONGEVITY OF WOMEN. Although on the average women live longer than men, a woman of twenty-five has fewer chances of living to fifty than a man of the same age. On the other hand, if a man and woman have both reached the age of fifty, the chances are that the woman will outlive the man, a fact accounted for by the difference in temperament.

MINERS AND TRAINMEN UNITE FORM ALLIANCE—SYMPATHETIC STRIKE OF RAIL MEN APRIL 1 NOT INVOLVED

Chicago.—An alliance agreement was adopted unanimously by representatives of more than 25,000 union coal miners, railroad workers and longshoremen, declaring for "deser co-operation of our forces which will operate more effectively to protect" union workers in wage struggles. No special program for allied action was outlined, however, and President John L. Lewis, of the miners' union, told the conference that he did not ask a sympathetic rail strike April 1, the date of the miners' threatened walkout.

The agreement, joined in by officers of 17 big unions, asserted that the purpose of the leaders was "to apply every honorable method" to obtain "adequate" wages for both miners and the transportation workers, and it established an Executive Committee to decide on the action by the unions whenever any emergency arises in the wage struggles of any of the allied groups.

WOULD DROWN HELPLESS. Vancouver, B. C.—Peter Veregin, head of the Russian religious sect, known as the Brotherhood, confided reports that he had suggested a plan whereby the children of the colony under ten years of age, together with the aged and infirm, be drowned as a protest against exorbitant taxation. Once rid of those unable to travel, Veregin proposed that his followers abandon their farms and wander over the country, preaching the coming of Christ and living as the "vagrant working class."

THREATENING LETTERS. Washington.—Federal agents and Washington police were combing the country in an effort to apprehend persons who for weeks have been sending threatening letters to society men and women of Washington. Payment of sums ranging from $15,000 to $25,000 under threats of death and dynamiting of their homes was demanded in letters received by Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, widow of the Montana "Copper King," Mrs. Mary Scott Townsend, Madame Christian House and Henry White, former United States Ambassador to France.

STEADY STREAM OF WALL STREET FAILURES TO CAUSE AN INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED IRREGULARITIES. New York.—Financial storms in speculative Wall street, which swept the brokerage firm of Karpis & Burke into bankruptcy, led four more houses. Involuntary petitions in bankruptcy were filed in Federal Court against: S. S. Duskay & Co.; liabilities estimated at $2,500,000 and assets at $1,500,000. J. W. Ball & Co.; liabilities estimated at $150,000 and assets at $100,000. Roddy & Co.; liabilities and assets not given.

The boy's mother asked that he be sent to the Reform School for his refusal to wash his sister's clothes. "Honestly, Judge, if you wash me, big and strong and fifteen years old, would you not make me a baby?" "No, sir," said the judge. "The boy won. He will go to work on a farm instead of Lancaster. Names are not divulged in Juvenile Court here."

MYSTERY SOLVED

CONFESSION IS WRUNG FROM CLERK IN THE WAR DEPARTMENT

Many Prominent People in Washington Said To Have Received Threatening Letters, Demanding Large Sums of Money—Prisoner Permitted To Go Home.

Washington.—Police announced they had obtained a signed confession from George Long, 40 years old, clerk in the Insular Bureau of the War Department, that he was the author of numerous threatening letters that have been received during the last three weeks by Henry White, former United States Ambassador to France, and three wealthy women, prominent in Washington society. The announcement that Long had been released on his own recognizance following his alleged confession occasioned much surprise, but it was blotted that police acted upon a suggestion from Federal officials who have been working in the case.

Long was arrested at his home by Clifford L. Grant, chief of detectives, and two plain clothes men. He was taken to the Department of Justice, where he was subjected to a grilling for almost two hours by William Burns, chief of the Intelligence Division. He protested his innocence and no amount of questioning could shake his story.

After he had been questioned at the Department of Justice he was turned over to Chief Grant, who resumed the grilling at district police headquarters. After an hour's questioning, Chief Grant says Long broke down, later signing a statement in which he is alleged to have admitted authorship of all the letters in possession of police.

Long is said to have told police that his first letter was to Mr. White in the latter part of January. Afterward, the alleged confession says, he wrote similar letters to Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, Mrs. Christian House and Mrs. Mary Scott Townsend, the sums demanded ranging from $15,000 to $25,000. Fully a dozen letters were written to each, all of similar nature.

BLAST SHAKES UP CHICAGO

Elusive Explosion That Frightened City Is Traced To Lone Quarry

Chicago.—Explosion of a powder magazine in a stone quarry in the southwestern outskirts of Chicago shook the entire city and caused much excitement before the site of the detonation was found. When windows were shattered in the south and west portions of the city, excited citizens made to newspapers to learn where the explosion had occurred and how many had been killed.

Inquiries by telephone to many places failed to disclose what had exploded, but by a curious freak of newspaperdom, an inquiry by the newspapers of Indianapolis soon brought a bulletin from Lafayette, Ind., that the explosion had occurred at McCook, Ill., on the edge of Chicago. This information, obtained within a few minutes after the explosion, led to the tracing of the accident to the quarry, which is still a secluded spot.

PRISONERS WILL BE FREED

Moscow.—"We gladly shall turn all persons in our power over to the signers, if they will take them away," said Leon Trotsky, Soviet War Minister, in an interview with foreign correspondents, who asked whether or not he knew that prisoners were starving and dying of disease in Soviet jails. "We have our own way of dealing with prisoners," he said. "You in the United States electrocute them. Well, we don't. Also, Americans who wish to realize what happens to prisoners during revolutions should remember their own Civil War. Be as bad as referring to Luby Prison."

THIEVES TAKE EVERYTHING. Montreal.—When R. D. Hardie and his family returned to their suburban home after a 48-hour absence, they found that everything that wasn't nailed down, and a number of things that were, had been stolen from the house. Even the carpets and the linoleum on the kitchen floor were gone. Mr. Hardie figured his loss at $20,000.

BITER IS BITTEN! Chicago.—A Chicago landlord who acquired the habit of booting the rent so often that he received more money every year than his building cost, has received a dose of his own medicine in a tax increase of 447 per cent assessed against him.

INVITED TO LONDON. London.—The British Government has invited Irish signatories to the Anglo-Irish treaty to come to London for an early conference on the situation. It was announced in the House of Commons by Winston Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, Mr. Churchill made this announcement in reply to a question, adding that the Government lacked sufficient information on what took place in Dublin to form judgment as to the course to be pursued regarding the Irish Free State bill.

Proportionate Getting.

Once upon a time, according to Harry Emerson Fosdick, who is credited with the story, a minister and his little son walked across the fields on a summer afternoon, to a little church where the minister, a visitor, was to preach. At the door was a box for offerings, in which the visiting minister, as he arrived, placed 50 cents. The regular minister and the congregation arrived shortly after, and the service proceeded. After the minister of the church said to his visitor: "Now, I want you to have whatever offerings there are in the box. I don't know how much there may be." The box was opened; 50 cents was discovered, and the minister turned over to the visitor. Silence. Packing Flowers to Ship.

When packing flowers for mail, fill the box with soft material. Sprinkle flowers with water and use only one paper to line the box. A good way to pack long-stemmed flowers is to lay them in rows at each end of the box, their stems overlapping in the center. Take a stick just a trifle longer than the inside width of the box and spring it across the center of the box pressing it well down on to the ends of the stems. This plan keeps every bloom from moving and becoming bruised or broken. Roll the paper around the stick. This prevents any damage being done to the stalks. Never use cotton wool except when packing very delicate greenhouse specimens.

Tampico Terrors.

Tampico, Mexico's great oil port, is on the Ponce river, nine miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and visitors find a choice assortment of vigorous and enterprising mosquitoes; but worse still are the myriads of flies, which exhibit uncanny intelligence. Netted doors on the oil tanks attract them in thousands, and immediately a portal is open they fly in, to scent the whereabouts of delicacies with the initiative of a prohibition officer. During rain the air is unusually damp and malarious, and in dry weather something approaching a sandstorm of the Great Sahara can be enjoyed. Americans working in the oil fields at Tampico earn liberal wages, which most of them feel they thoroughly deserve.

Words Meaning Changed.

At present scan is used to mean to glance over, but its original meaning was to examine closely. This survives in our term to scan verse. The derivation is from Latin scandere, to climb. The "d" was mistaken for the past participle "ed," hence our modern word. Among other words springing from the same source, and so related to "scan," are slender and scanning. The latter was originally the sailing of a trap or the stick upon which the ball was wed. Slender which was variously spelled selandre, is only another form of scandere.

Red Always Dieting C. or.

Red always dieting C. or. The bull is not only a creature that resents red, the elephant, the horse, the dog, the cock, are all alike in this respect. It is sufficient, for example, to cover the doors and skylights of a kennel with red material to cause incessant barking and commotion among the dogs confined therein. A spider and a wasp, confined in a glass case, are reported to have dwelt happily together until a red cloth was placed against the sides, when the insects tackled each other at once and in a fight to the death ensued.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Ball Lightning.

Ball lightning, an example of which was seen in northwest London during a recent thunderstorm, is a well-attested phenomenon, occasionally seen during thunderstorms, most usually at sea. It always appears after an exceptionally vivid lightning flash, and is believed to be composed of oxygen and ozone thrown off from a negatively charged cloud. It has the appearance of a luminous sphere several feet in diameter, or, when near the ground, moving horizontally, as though repelled by the earth, and finally disappearing as the result of an explosion of considerable violence.

The Dreaded Iron Virgin.

The iron virgin was an instrument of torture in use during the Middle Ages. It was a hollow wooden figure, fashioned to represent a maiden of the fifteenth century, and opened like a cupboard, revealing an interior studded with sharp iron spikes. After the victim had been forced to enter, the door gradually closed upon him and brought his body in contact with the spikes, which pierced him through and through. There he lingered in dreadful agony, until death relieved him from his sufferings. Henceforth the figure was a terror, through which the dead body fell.

Three Black Birds.

Many people are unable to tell the difference between a rook, a crow and a jackdaw. The rook, when a year old, has a bare face, and its plumage is shiny black; the hooded crow is ash grey, with a black head; while the jackdaw, though the same size as the rook, has a steel-blue shimmer on its plumage, and its wings are by no means as long as those of the rook. The jackdaw can be distinguished easily from any of the other three, first because it is smaller—being only about fourteen inches long—and, secondly, because it has purplish plumage and a gray neck.

Hypnotism as Aid to Surgery.

Hypnotism as an aid to surgery was made use of many years ago to a limited degree, but recently it seems to have come into favor and in connection with a narcotic—hypnotism—it is called. Light hypnosis induced before an operation will establish the patient's equanimity and prevent the natural anxiety associated with the operation and with the taking of an anesthetic. The principal indication takes place just before the operation, the patient then being slowly anesthetized so that the narcotic state supervenes upon the hypnosis. Narcotics cause as much as the operation is completed, and hypnosis is again brought into use. The benefits are immediate. The amount of narcotic used is reduced by one-third or two-fifths of what would otherwise be required. Any toxic action is, therefore, of the slightest, after-effects being correspondingly reduced. The patient awakes from a sleep rather than from a narcosis.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

It has been circulated among the tobacco haulers of this town that there was some kind of contagious disease among the horses and mules and that there had been some 8 or 10 died in the Mt. Sterling stockyards. I have not been able to find out where this started from. I want to say that there hasn't been a horse or mule died in the stockyards in the past two years nor has there been any contagious disease. This place is disinfected every month. Willie Stone lost two or three mules. Dr. Horton says two of them died from indigestion and one from a kick. A. B. Wells has had something over 300 mules here
